

Motoring & The Law - the driving force keeping you up to speed

Need to know more about road traffic legislation?

Simple to complex traffic Q&A's are supported by a wealth of up to date legal knowledge that provides instant comprehensive answers!

Police National Legal Database (PNLD) developed the Motoring & The Law app with the support of the Cabinet Office Good Law team and partially funded by the Home Office.

Created in an effort to make law more accessible and simpler to understand. The app benefits from combining the best of PNLD's existing services Ask the Police and PNLD's legal database.

Records show that more than two thirds of all questions accessed via the popular 'Ask the Police' website are in relation to road traffic matters. The public have an unquenchable thirst for knowledge, it became clear that more readily accessible information would be of further benefit.

It provides the answers to over 200 road traffic related questions enhanced by appropriate legal content and knowledge acquired by PNLD over the last 20 years.

Answers are supported by cases, legislation and details of penalties and points to prove where offences are involved. There is also the facility to email our Legal Team for more information if required.

"The app is very intuitive and I am impressed by the comprehensive content. The various topics are readily identified by the icons on the home page and the subsequent menus.

The pages load quickly and provide relevant content. I like the "overview" of each answer with the accompanying "legal" tab for the associated legislation. The whole app is well presented and easy to read."

"I thought the app was excellent in its content and ease of use. It dealt with every point that occurred to me as I went along, and dealt very comprehensively with cycling and other road uses. The answers are clear and accurate and are cross-referred accurately to relevant provisions of the law."

"Very informative and easy to follow steps. Very simple and easy to use and navigate around the app."

"I am very impressed with the app and think that it is extremely good value"

“Road traffic law can be very complicated, but this app does a good job of highlighting the essentials but without dumbing down too much.”
